Sport Court Renovations

The Parks levy, part of the Together Spokane initiative, would renovate all existing 17 racquet sport courts. Corbin and Underhill parks are examples of courts that received full renovation over the past 2 years, and all other existing City of Spokane park sport courts would receive similar treatment.

Sport court renovations were a priority identified in our recent Park Master Plan, and aim to meet the growing demand for pickleball space while maintaining multi-use when possible. All sport court projects will include 'dedicated' racquet sport courts, with the quantity of dedicated pickleball and dedicated tennis varying by location depending on community preference.

The courts would be renovated over the life of the 20-year levy, with a goal of completing approximately 1-2 court complex renovations per year. The Parks levy also builds three new parks in areas without a park, and some or all of these parks may include a sport court, depending upon the desires and requests of the neighborhood.

Together Spokane is a partnership between a Spokane Parks levy and a Spokane Public Schools bond, two separate but aligned ballot initiatives this November.
